Welcome to 1997,

It's a new year and winter is here (strange how that always happens). We hope everyone is getting through in good working order. In case you want to compare notes, northern Idaho has had over 14 feet of snow so far.

There are many different selections in this list, covering all areas of numismatics. Many new book titles are included, too. The response to the book section in our last list has made it a regular feature from now on.

This year we would like to get things better organized and to improve our efforts in servicing customer want lists. The new computer should help that situation. If you ordered something in the past and we were out of stock, please send us a current want list; or if there are particular catalogues you're looking for, please drop us a note. You never know what may show up.

We will be going to the February 20-23 Long Beach Show, returning around March 1st. Any orders that arrive during our absence will be attended to as soon as we return.

As always, we wish to thank everyone for your business.

Best regards,

Karl & Jenny Moulton

WHO WAS THE GREATEST AND EARLIEST FINANCIER MENTIONED IN SCRIPTURE?
WHY, NOAH, FOR HE SUCCESSFULLY FLOATED A LIMITED COMPANY WHEN ALL THE REST OF THE WORLD WAS IN LIQUIDATION.

THE GARRETT COLLECTION SALES

This legendary four part sale was conducted by Bowers & Ruddy Galleries between November 1979 and March 1981. The spectacular array of rarities contained in this collection put the total prices realized over $25 Million Dollars. Currently, this is the record for any coin sale ever held in the United States (although the final, upcoming Eliasberg Collection sale may surpass this).

These catalogues were originally issued at $10 each. Since then they have commanded a substantial premium because of their superb historical and reference value. Even today prices of $100 for the set have been seen in literature mail bid sales.

This collection belongs in every serious numismatist's library. If you don't yet have this collection, or are new to this interesting hobby, we offer the following:

A WORD ABOUT PRICES:

Currently, there are no price guides for numismatic literature. This will probably change in the future. The only meaningful way to determine value is by checking the prices realized in literature mail bid sales and fixed price offerings such as the one you are now reading.

Since the nationwide, multi-dealer literature business is a relatively young practice (approximately 20 years old) there are bound to be gaps in knowledge and prices paid on certain items. Like numismatics in general, there will be up and down cycles depending upon a wide variety of market influences.

The future growth of the numismatic literature field is open for great advancement. For instance, there is a time coming in the near future when printed auction catalogues will be no more. The computer will forever change the way in which auctions are conducted. Today's relatively low prices will seem like amazing bargains to future literature collectors.

Perhaps the most active area of the literature business is mail bid sales. Caution is advised when formulating bids. The prices listed in these sales are merely estimates. If the cataloguer requires a bid based on a fixed percentage of this estimate, it could become an unrealistically high minimum bid.

If you feel comfortable with the estimates, by all means send in a bid. If you feel the estimates are too high, simply don't bid. By supporting unrealistic estimates combined with an allowable percentage minimum, the thin, collector based market will eventually crash. People currently active, as well as new and future collectors, will be turned off.

There is nothing wrong with minimum bids, especially in mail bid sales as opposed to public auctions with active floor bidders. However, we believe if a minimum bid is required, that figure should be stated as the minimum bid rather than using a percentage of the cataloguers estimate. Hopefully this practice will be adopted in the future.

We at Great American Sales believe numismatic literature should an enjoyable, educational, and entertaining segment of numismatics. We will be happy to answer any questions about our inventory. If there's something of interest, please feel free to write or call. As always, we express a heartfelt "THANKS" to everyone who has placed an order, and we look forward to making many new acquaintances.

Sincerely,
